FENTON'S PETITE EPERGNE

Available now in any quantity.

2 in 1 Candle and Flower Holder

Although you can't see the Petite Epergne in the illustration above, we show below 3 of the infinite varieties of uses for these practical and versatile aids to attractive flower arranging.

The Petite Epergne is available in Crystal or Milk Glass. It is deep and large enough for sizable bouquets and a plastic ring (with each epergne) keeps it secure in any type holder.

Fenton is Now Prompt in Delivery!

The productivity of the Fenton Glass Company has been vastly increased the past 2 years through the training of more personnel and plant expansion.

Normally shipment will be made in 30 days or less—but seasonal fluctuations must also be expected. Therefore, plan your purchases well in advance so that you maintain an inventory of this fast-selling, profit-making merchandise.

The best proof that Fenton is good for florists is our ever increasing sales. Why don't YOU join the parade to better profits with Fenton Glass.

Florists Sold 39% More Fenton in 1958

A considerable amount of this increase in the florists' sales and profits was due to these 7 numbers—6 of which are sold only to florists—these are marked with an asterisk.

We expect a similar increase this year because Fenton Glass is perfect for florists—beautifully styled—colored—designed and priced to sell quickly at a profit.

Hobnail Milk Glass

You might say that Milk Glass is as American as apple pie or the 4th of July. And its appeal is almost as wide as those two notable institutions.

All its forthright appeal, its "rightness", is characterized in the Hobnail pattern. Hobnail is simple, and it's unobtrusive, but it has a lasting quality that matches the quality of its Fenton workmanship. Its name is completely descriptive . . . each piece is patterned with staggered lines of raised, slightly conical dots, just like the hobnails early Americans, and maybe some latter day ones, wore on their shoes. The Hobnail pattern is available in a wide variety of designs, shapes and sizes.

Cranberry Hobnail

Here you have the best of two possible worlds . . . the proven appeal of Hobnail, sparked with the color of cranberry. In each piece, the Hobnail pattern is the same as in the plain Milk Glass, but the background is the clear red tint of cranberry. More Cranberry Hobnail on page twelve.

Milk Glass, long one of America's favorites, shows no sign of losing its popularity. Clean and cool, its classic simplicity suits equally well the traditional, the transitional or the modern home. From this and some of the following pages you will see it is made in many designs and for many uses. As an occasional piece in the living room, or as part of the table service in the dining room, Milk Glass is always "at home." Because of its traditional appeal and its inherent charm, Milk Glass is assured of a continuing demand this year and for a great many years to come.

Silver Crest

PETTICOAT GLASS

The fine crystal edging on each piece of Silver Crest makes us think of it as "the glass with the delicate air." But its looks belie its sturdiness. Silver Crest is ever popular Milk Glass with the addition of a crystal fluting. And we mean addition, because each crystal edging is applied after the basic form of the piece has been blown or shaped. It's the job of Fenton's most skilled craftsman to apply the clear molten glass evenly, using only his sure hand and eye. The result is a distinctive line, combining the simplicity of Milk Glass with the glamor of crystal, a partnership that promises as much popularity in the future as it has shown in the past.

Silver Turquoise

The most colorful of the Petticoat line, Silver Turquoise, shows its greatest charm in the sparkling contrast of the clean, true turquoise with the airiness of the clear crystal edging. Because each piece is solid turquoise, inside and out, each fluting in the crystal edging reflects back a little of the blue-green color.
