Authentic patterns in fine glass - hand-fashioned by Fenton

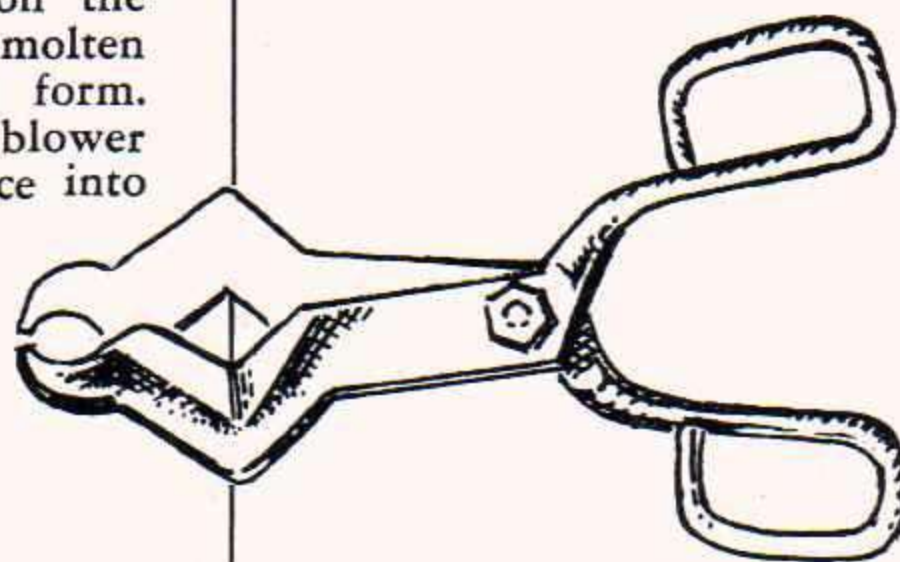

The Fenton Art Glass Company, Williamstown, W. Va.

THE BLOW-PIPE

357 YEARS OF AMERICAN TRADITION. The men in these photographs are practicing the same skills passed from father to son, neighbor to neighbor, since the first glass furnace was erected at Jamestown in 1608. It has taken these men years to learn the skills which leave something of themselves in the finished glass that is so distinctively Fenton. (A) Dipping into the furnace with the blowpipe to pick up the 2000° molten globule. (B) Shaping on the marver gives the molten glass its first crude form. (C) The familiar blower brings a Fenton piece into being.

THE HANDLE-SHEAR

ART OR SCIENCE? Call the Fenton process of hand-fashioned glass an art or call it a science — it remains the skill of highly trained artisans. At Fenton every piece of glassware represents the painstaking efforts of an expert workman . . . that personal touch that has made Fenton so famous. (D) The blower "blocks" the glass so that just the right amount of glass remains. (E) The molten glass going into the hand-carved mold will emerge as beautiful milk glass. (F) The blower's face and hands express extreme dedication to his craft.

THE SNAP

A long-handled "snap" holds this thumbprint bowl just before it will be "warmed-in" at the "gloryhole" to make the glass workable. The front cover shows this being done. Only the experienced eye of the "warming-in boy" knows when it is hot enough to be shaped into a basket by the "finisher."

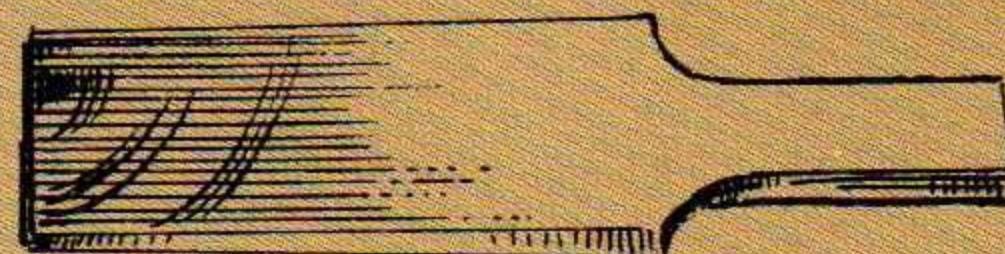

This "finisher," or "gaffer," has just crimped the thumbprint bowl and worked it into a basket shape. You can still see the red-hot heat in the outer edges of the bowl. It is now ready for the handler.

A molten ribbon of glass becomes a delicate basket handle. The glass is carefully shaped by hand tooling and cools into a graceful arc. All handles on Fenton Glass are attached in this same age-old manner.

Fenton

Handmade Hobnail in Milk Glass and Color

One could almost say that Fenton Hobnail Milk Glass has become an institution, for never has a glass pattern met with such enduring popularity. Your customers are buying more and more of this traditionally styled glassware each year, and they are buying it in color as well as in Milk Glass.

Fenton Hobnail has proved outstandingly successful because it is as beautiful as it is authentic in its Early American styling.

This period, reflected in so many traditionally decorated homes today, is constantly growing in favor, for the graciousness and warmth of its beauty is timeless.

Candle Holders and Bowls

Fenton handmade candle holders and bowls sell together because they are designed to go together and, of course, they also sell very well separately. Display these beautiful pieces with candles and fruit arrangements. Experience shows that such displays will add to your sale of decorative fruit and candles as well as to your sale of Fenton candle holders and bowls.

"For courting's a pleasure"

Long popular in Fenton's Diamond Optic design, these romantic lamps are now available in Hobnail Milk Glass and color. Because this authentic Early American lamp has been such a favorite we know you will enjoy many additional sales with these new patterns. Fenton Courting Lamps are unusually versatile. Attractive on porches and patios as well as in all other parts of the home, their modest price makes them easy to sell in pairs. Available in oil or electric, watch your sales light up when you display these lovely new handmade lamps.

FENTON HANDMADE

Ruby Overlay

Only skill gained through years of glassmaking, can produce such exquisiteness as Fenton Ruby Overlay. Real coin gold—added at the precise moment—creates the glimmering ruby red color. Encased in fine crystal, it creates an aura of warmth and gentle color.

Many centuries ago glassmakers discovered a way to fuse different colors of glass into objects of singular beauty. Their artistic efforts inspired an era of imaginative glassmaking which reached its peak in the famed Vasa Murrhina glass made at Sandwich, Massachusetts in the nineteenth century.

Fenton brings back Vasa Murrhina—each piece an individual creation unlike any other. The new Autumn Orange color and other new items in Vasa Murrhina will add to your sales of this outstanding line.

Vasa Murrhina, which means vessel of gems, is well named. The sparkling flecks of ancient aventurine glass and other colors give it a jewel-like appearance and blend together into a finished tapestry of distinctive character. Exclusive with Fenton, it is authentic—made by hand, the only way it can be made.

Every Piece of Fenton Glass is Picked for Profit

Last year set a record for Fenton sales. The 1964 line proved to be the best seller in our 60-year history — and this year's sales are going to be even bigger!

There's no guesswork in our projected sales figures at Fenton. Looking through this catalog you'll see many familiar items that have proved to be what your customers want year after year. And after considering several hundred new designs, our consumer tests, and your suggestions, we have adopted more than 100 new items which you are seeing for the first time. Consumers all over America are seeing Fenton Glass in full-color advertising in such publications as House Beautiful, House & Garden and The American Home.

You'll see the proof in this year's high-volume sales, just as you did last year. You can stock up on Fenton Glass with the confident knowledge that it will sell even better than before.

Important instructions (Please read before placing orders)

This catalog will help you sell more Fenton glass. Please use it to place your orders between calls by the Fenton salesman. We hope that you will let this be the salesman's assistant and that this catalog will serve you well.

Each shape and pattern offered by Fenton is pictured here. Some pieces are made in several colors. The price list or the order blank will list every item and the colors made. Please refer to the color code on this page.

Easier receiving and pricing

The ware number, color code, and description are shown on the price list and on the invoice. Each box is marked with a pressure sensitive label showing the Fenton ware number, color code and suggested EASTERN retail price. If you wish, as you unpack each piece, the pressure sensitive label can be taken from the box and stuck to the ware. It is then properly priced.

(NOTE: Accounts located west of the Rockies should only use this label to identify and check in the shipment. Refer to the Western Retail Price List for the suggested retail price of each item.)

ROUTING OF SHIPMENTS—Unless otherwise specified by you, all shipments will be routed the best way available.

CLAIMS FOR DAMAGE IN TRANSIT—All of our shipments are carefully packed by experienced packers in strict accordance with packing methods approved by the various carriers. Should there be breakage or loss in transit, the carrier is liable, and neither you nor The Fenton Art Glass Company is required to suffer a loss. It is necessary, however, that you report such damage to the carrier in writing and request an inspection report from them showing the extent of the loss. This inspection report becomes the basis for your claim, which should be filed promptly. If you require assistance in filing the claim we will be glad to help you, Should there be damage in a Parcel Post shipment, it is advisable to report the damage to your local postmaster, but do not file the claim. Send a detailed description of the damaged merchandise along with our invoice number. Upon receipt of this information, we will arrange to replace the damaged merchandise and will handle the claim for the replacement cost.

DISCONTINUED ITEMS—Please do not include in your order any items which do not appear on our current price list and order blank. We frequently drop less popular pieces to make room for new items in our various lines. Numbers which have been discontinued are then no longer available, and cannot be shipped.

Come, visit us . . .

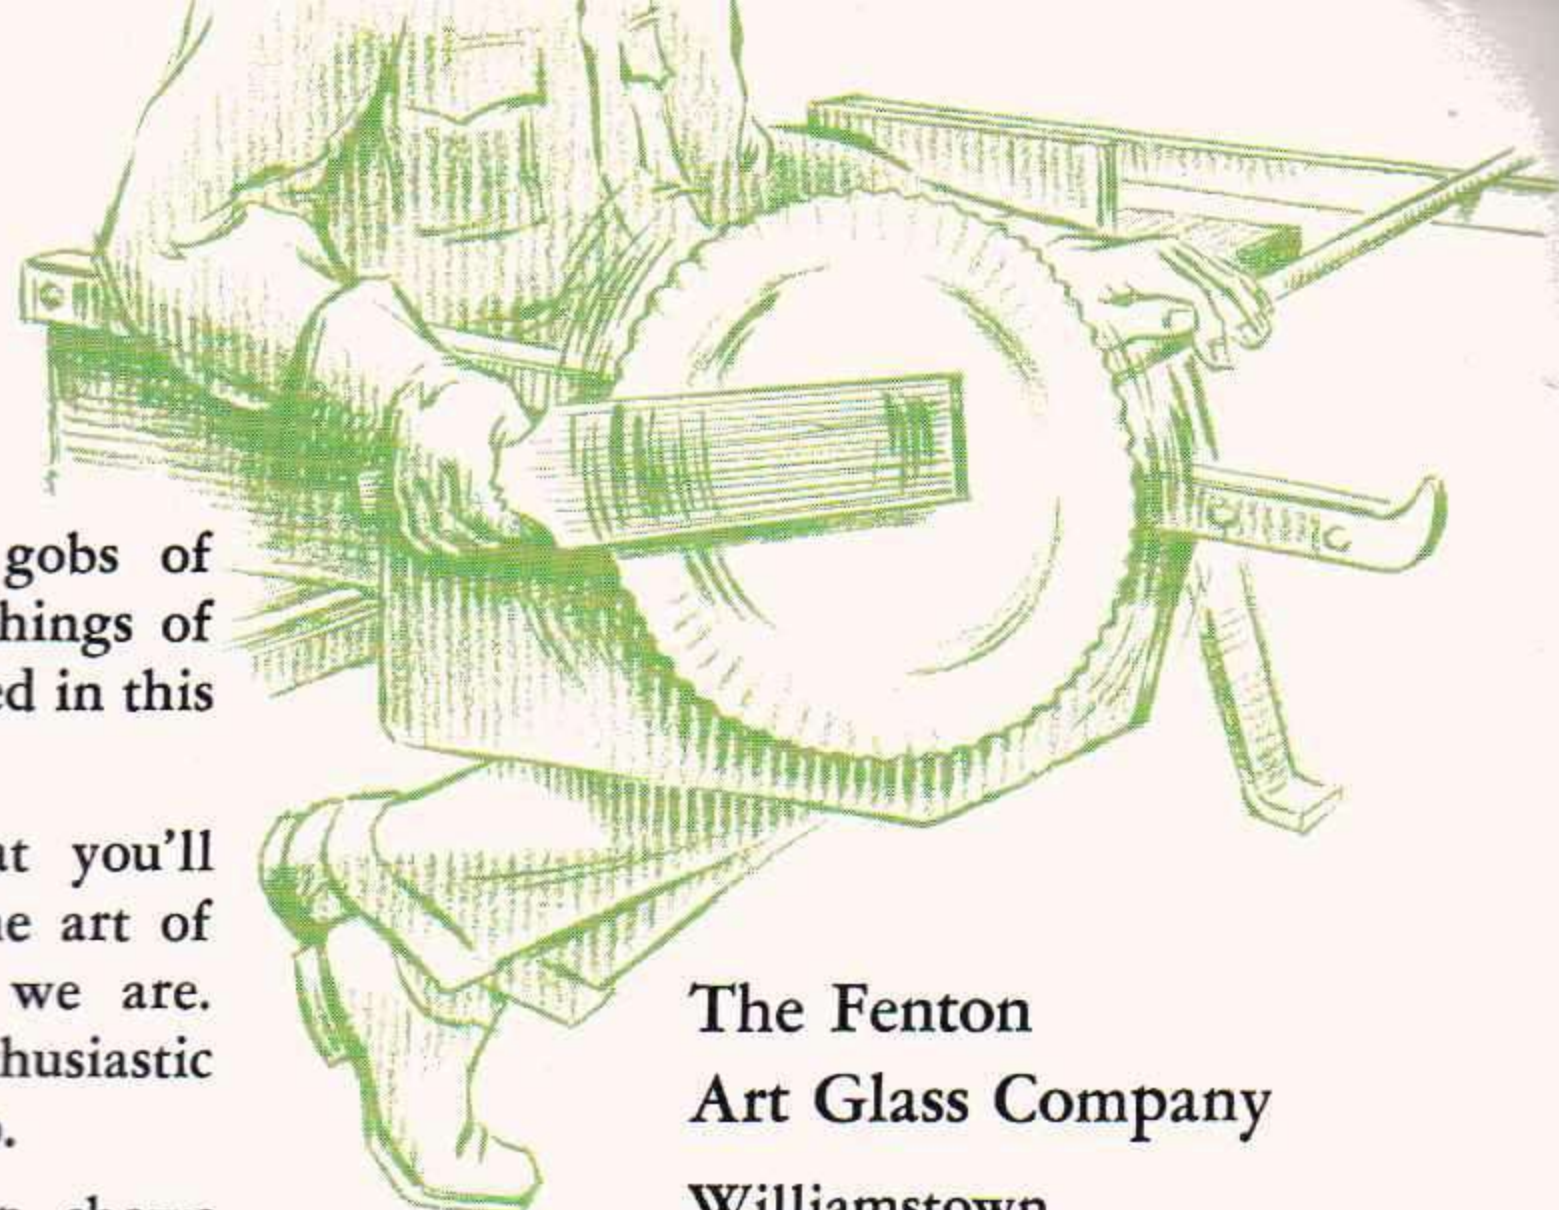

Though thousands of people visit our plant each year to watch the ancient art of making glass by hand, we would like to have you as our special guest.

We'll introduce you to the men who make Fenton glass; they'll take you with them through the ancient processes which turn glowing, living gobs of liquid glass into the things of beauty you see displayed in this catalog.

We promise you that you'll be as fascinated by the art of fine glass-making as we are. And you'll be as enthusiastic about the product, too.

So, stop in. The map shows you where we are.
